It is said that the measure represents the administration view.

Mr. Dooliver said of the bill: "The measure is designed to subject the future issues of stocks and bonds by transportation companies, telephone and telegraph companies engaged in interstate commerce, to the scrutiny of the government of the United States. It is drawn on the theory that these corporations should be so organized that there should be some just and reasonable relation between their assets and their liabilities."

country, no matter how strict a constructionist he may be, who would object to a bill for the improvement of our waterways. Mr. Carnegie gave his enthusiastic endorsement to the preparation for the bond issue. He endorsed this scheme, he said, because the improvement of our waterways would give back to this country tenfold the expense.

He expressed the belief, however, that the utilization of our own waterways was of infinitely more importance than the Panama Canal, and wished that our own waterways had been improved before the Panama Canal project had been taken up.

Governor Chamberlain, of Oregon, who and Representatives who favored the improvement of our waterways, and who failed to carry out their promises, met with opposition from Representative Champ Clark.

"To say so," he declared, "would be to assume that the Congress is composed of a job lot of politicians."

Mr. Gompers said the laboring man was vitally interested in waterways expansion, and hoped that the time would come when more attention would be devoted to such waterway schemes than to the building of arsenals and navy yards.

NEARING A CLOSE

Case of Abraham Ruef Has Been in Progress for 100 Days.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., December 9.—One of the most remarkable trials in the history of California will end with the discharge of the jury that is tonight considering the fate of Abraham Ruef, charged with the bribery of a former superior to procure the passage of a trolley ordinance.

Ruef has thrice appeared to answer three of the scores of indictments pending against him. In the first case, wherein Ruef was charged with extorting money from the proprietor of a French restaurant, the defendant pleaded guilty. The case was afterwards reversed by the higher courts. In the second trial, on a charge of having bribed supervisors in the application of the Parkside Realty Company for a trolley franchise, the jury disagreed after seven hours of deliberation.

The present trial was on an indictment charging Ruef with bribing former Supervisor John J. Furey. It was begun August 26th and has been in progress 106 days. The jury was not completed until the trial was seventy-two days old.

Henry a Witness.

Francis J. Henry appeared as a witness today at the trial of Attorney Frank J. Murphy, accused of attempting to bribe a venireman in the Ruef bribery case. The assistant prosecuting attorney, who had not been seen in court since he was shot down in Judge Lawler's courtroom by Morris Maas, appeared to be almost entirely well. A slight discoloration of the right cheek marked the spot where the bullet of the assassin entered. His voice was full and strong, although Hans's bullet had penetrated the throat.

The jury returned from dinner about 3 o'clock and after deliberating for an hour and a half, came into the courtroom at 3:30 and asked that the testimony of former Supervisor Furey Wilson and Gallagher be read. The reading of the testimony consumed about an hour. The courtroom was densely crowded.

THEATRICAL TRUST

Klaw and Erlanger Are Merging Houses in the Far West.

CHICAGO, December 9.—Seventy-five theatres between Chicago and San Francisco, including playhouses in Omaha, Denver and San Francisco, are to be merged into one company, according to the Daily News to-day, which credits the story to an authoritative source.

Klaw and Erlanger are said to be the prime movers in the extension of the so-called trust. The theatre in Omaha, Denver and San Francisco will, according to present plans, be the first to be absorbed.

According to a story circulated here to-night, the enterprise contemplates embracing more than the territory between here and San Francisco. It is said that Charles Frohman, Al Hayman and Samuel F. Nixon, of Philadelphia, are also interested; that the merger plans to control theatre property values at $50,000,000.

News to Klaw.

NEW YORK, December 9.—Mare Klaw, Al Erlanger's business associate, said to-night that he knew of no extension of the theatrical syndicate's activities, such as indicated in a dispatch from Chicago.

"It's news to me," he said. "I am not aware of any such movement." Mr. Erlanger and Mr. Harris went to Chicago on Monday.

DANGER INCREASES

Arkansas River Continues to Menace the City of Pine Bluff.

PINE BLUFF, ARK., December 9.—Developments upset the confidence felt last night that the encroachment of the flood waters of the Arkansas River toward the eastern residence quarter had been finally checked. Two blocks west of Hardin's Bayou are endangered, and houses are removed as rapidly as possible.

Ten to Miss Beaman.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., December 9.—One of the most beautiful teas ever witnessed in Norfolk, followed by a large and brilliant reception, was that given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Nathaniel Beaman, in honor of her daughter, Miss Sallie Beaman, who is one of the season's most attractive debutantes.

The Beaman residence was decorated throughout with palms, ferns, and Southern smilax. A profusion of American Beauties and white roses decorated the drawing-room, in which the guests were received. Pink roses and candles shaded in the dining-room, the dining-room. The high brick mantel in the hall was exquisitely banked with maidenhair ferns. Electric lights with pink paper tulips illuminated the Suppressed Merriment When Lawyer Tells Gossiping Picture of Prince.

PRAISES DE SAGAN

PARIS, December 9.—French society crowded the court room in the Palace of Justice to-day to hear M. Julemior, speaking in the name of the Princess de Sagan, oppose the suit entered by Count Boni de Castellane, in which he petitions that the custody of his three children be given to his mother, the Marquise de Castellane. When Princess de Sagan, formerly Miss Anna Gould, secured a divorce from the Count de Castellane, custody of her children was awarded to her.

Castellane's sole motive in bringing this sudden tender charge, was hatred of De Sagan; the very thought of the prince occupying a place in the affections of his former wife and living in the superb mansion on the Avenue Malakoff goaded De Castellane to fury.

The count, said M. Julemior, did everything possible to induce the marriage of his former wife to De Sagan.

WAR IS CERTAIN

Rhodes's Cousin Makes Prediction Regarding German Invasion.

CITY OF MEXICO, December 9.—In my opinion and in the opinion of some of the best versed public and military men in Great Britain war between England and Germany must come, and it will come within the next two years."

This was the statement made by Frederick J. M. Rhodes, cousin of Cecil Rhodes, who is in this republic in the interest of large mine owners. He has just returned from a trip to England.

"A high official of English forces whom I first met in China several years ago stated positively that war with Germany is inevitable, and that the declaration of war, the matter can't be put off. It must come, and the sooner it comes the better it will be for England. This is but one of many similar expressions I heard during my visit in England. On every hand in the very highest circles the same opinion was expressed."
